The electronic Apostille Program (e-APP) A steadily growing reality

Le Programme Apostille électronique En croissance constante

Christophe Bernasconi
Deputy Secretary General
Secrétaire général adjoint

The electronic Apostille Program (“e-APP”)

e-Apostilles

Issuance of Apostilles in electronic format, with a digital certificate

e-Registers

Operation of Apostille registers in electronic format than can be accessed online to verify the origin of paper and e-Apostilles

Advantages of the e-APP

More secure

- appropriate use of a digital certificate provides much greater certainty as to the origin of the Apostille in question (that it was indeed issued by the CA)
- e-Apostilles are far more securely “attached” to the underlying public document
- e-Apostilles evidence attempts to tamper with the Apostille and/or underlying document (the e-Apostille is automatically rendered “invalid”)
- e-Registers facilitate more frequent verification of the origin of Apostilles (both paper Apostilles and e-Apostilles)

Advantages of the e-APP

More efficient

- In an electronic environment, requests for Apostilles can be made online (and thus without need for human interface), Apostilles can be sent to the applicant online (e.g., by email, or through a secure site)
- System for issuing e-Apostilles may be integrated into an electronic signature database so that the origin of an underlying document may be verified with one click
- e-Register means no more direct dealing with recipients of Apostilles (or time wasted in the archive room)
- Possibility to have one central e-Register for multiple CAs across the country
- Maintaining a centralised e-Register facilitates access to statistics on the issuance of Apostilles

Advantages of the e-APP

Flexible

- e-Apostilles and e-Register may be implemented independently of each other
- Additional possibility first to issue e-Apostilles only for public documents executed electronically – then also issue e-Apostilles for paper docs in second stage
- CAs are free to adopt a technical solution that best suits their legal and IT environment (i.e., no technical solution is imposed)

Straightforward

- Not complicated and not necessarily expensive
- Easy to use

A green program

- The e-APP allows CAs to reduce their paper consumption
